LOOK OF WHITELAND HIGH

From the new buildings to the new faces of the students, Whiteland Community High School has taken on the look of progress. New courses, the cafeteria, and other new additions to the building have speeded up life at WCHS.

Now as the doors are opened, progress can be seen in the face and every action of each student. New doors are being opened to the student, and he enters with a firm strength and dedication to his studies and to his school.

As the pages of the "68" Warrior are turned, so new doors are opened. Progress can be seen in the new classes, sports and other activities of daily school life. Turn the pages and see the new look of Whiteland Community High School.

Look of Initiative, Hunger and Fun

There are many looks that one may give or receive, such as the look of happiness or sorrow, the look of affection or dislike. One could go on and on with the different looks the world contains, but what about the looks one finds at a home away from home—the school.

Whiteland Community High contains many fine looks, such as Mary Jo Pickhart and her look of excitement and suspense at a basketball game, or the look of the senior cord fad. And how about Ann, Chris, Sue and Karen and their looks of satire for today's modern society.

Of course, no school would be complete without the look of accomplishment. This is an illustration from band class. So if you are one who likes to observe the present, better take a quick look at 1968 because Whiteland Community High keeps moving on to bigger and greater things.

Ann Receives Top Awards; Helps With Annual, Plays

Ann was awarded an Optimist Club Youth Award and a National Merit Commendation, was chosen D.A.R. Good Citizen and Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, besides remaining at the top of the class. She was also class editor of the annual, was in the cast of the Senior class play, and helped backstage with the Dramatics Club play. Next year, she plans to attend Indiana University.

Ann Robison, Valedictorian

As the only girl in her Mechanics Drawing class, Ann tried to make out the men's drawings.

Sharon Is Active in Art, Plays; Also Works Part-time

While maintaining her rank as second in the class, Sharon worked at the Indianapolis Star and News and still found time to participate in many school activities. She was Secretary of F.B.I.A., President of National Honor Society, and was on the make up committees of both the senior and Dramatics Club plays. She also drew many of the hoops for basketball. Next year she plans to enter the business world.

As Graduation Nears, Seniors Sadly Recall a Fun Filled Year

Senioritis reached an all time high in the 1967-68 school year. Displaying senior keys and other senior paraphernalia, seniors exhibited their zaniness on Hobo Day and their pride at Commencement. Senior night included dancing and laughing until 12 a.m. after the Danville game. The Senior Banquet at Steffey's Restaurant was delicious, and "The Campbell's Are Coming," the senior play, was a hilarious success.

Suddenly realizing that time was short, seniors were measured for caps and gowns, and announcements were ordered. Classrooms were buzzing with the familiar question, "Will you sign my memory book?" Plans for college and jobs were seriously considered. The sadness of graduation reached the seniors as they realized they would never again trudge through the halls to class. Some will come back to visit, but it will never be the same again.

The senior year spelled FUN and FRIENDSHIP for most members of the class, as a new closeness developed among them. In the hallways the ever-popular "Senior Song" echoed, and seniors rejoiced because they were exempt from semester finals. Times were fast, fantastical, and just plain marvelous; they will always be remembered by the class of 1968, THE GREAT!

The Junior Year

The junior class of 1967-68 received class rings at the end of September. All one could hear and see were the juniors showing off their most valuable possession of that moment.

Then when basketball season arrived there was a great need for juniors to work at the ball-games in order to earn money for the class. But that really was not the only reason for the juniors working. They worked in order to decorate for the Junior Prom, which was May 10, at the Sherwood Country Club, with "Three Coins in the Fountain" as the theme.

The yellow rose as class flower and silver and turquoise as class colors were chosen for their senior year.

Class president Gordon Quinn and secretary-treasurer Jan's Gaynor discuss sophomore business while vice-president Shirley Leavell is home ill for a day

Straddling the fence between foolishness of freshmen and insight of the upperclassmen, the sophomores find adventure. They ordered their class rings and many of the boys entered sports competition. During the year, they watched and waited for the time when they would be seniors, which seemed quite an unbearable distance to that second year of high school. It was a time for studying and relaxing, although impatiently, until they could experience the rigorous life of an upperclassman.

Freshmen Start

The freshmen started their first year of excitement and anticipation in high school. The seniors were always looking for them, but only for initiation purposes. Otherwise, the freshmen began on their own, experiencing new and exciting activities tinged with a little insecurity. They were put-to-the-test by upperclassmen, and times were rather hair raising!

Their new ways of high school life began with the choosing of their course of study and they participated in new sports.

The freshmen were not only known for their recklessness and racket, but also for their capacity for giving. Out of the whole school, the class of "71" gave the most for support of an orphan child in Korea, Yoo Jung Soon.

Susan Wendt, president of the freshman class, and Lorelei Clark, vice-president, and Mike Borey, secretary, were at the entrance to the new campus. They were looking for the class which the most money from any class was raised for the Korean orphan child, Yoo Jung Soon.

Upon entering the high school building, the eighth graders found themselves shunned by the "upper" classmen. This spirited class adjusted to the stricter high school rules with good-natured grumbling and complaining. After dropping the easy life of grade school, they became enthusiastically involved in Junior High clubs sports, and other activities.

The Sunshine Society is one of the largest and most active service organizations in the school. Under the guidance of Mrs. Margaret Keting, Miss Phyllis Beck, and Mrs. Arlene Wilson, the Sunshine Society not only lends service to the school, such as cleaning up the school yard, but also aids many outside projects such as the distribution of Christmas presents for the underprivileged, donating to the Riley Fund, and collecting for the Heart Fund.

Sponsors, Mrs. Margaret Keting, Miss Phyllis Beck and Mrs. Arlene Wilson, work together on plans for the Sunshine Society.

The Warrior

Through trials and tribulations the Warrior staff slaved over typewriters, glue, staples, and triplicates to bind together the events and people of the 1967-68 school year at White and High.

The Whiteland Singers swing out with enthusiasm and sparkle

The sky is the limit for Whiteland Community High School's vocal Department. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Duvall, and the band, under the direction of Mr. Harlan McGrew, together have made the music department what it is today—the best in Johnson County. Mrs. Duvall has formed many smaller groups in addition to the two choirs who are commonly known as the Whiteland Singers. Among these groups are the Entrees, the Trio, the Boys' Chorus, and brand new mixed group, the Swing Choir. Each group is unique and individual. There is a common bond holding each group together; that is the bond of enthusiasm and a desire to be better than the best. With teamwork like that, even the sky is no limit!

Mrs. Duvall as well as many others commends Ann Becker on the fine job she has done in accompanying most of the vocal groups the past few years

Entreés Shine Again

Each year the Entreés set aside a scholarship fund to send as many girls as possible to summer music camp. This year, being short of scholarship funds, they produced a variety show to raise money entitled "Send Two and a half Girls to Camp." Also appearing in the show were the Swing Choir, the new Entreés for 1968-1969, and the Boys' Chorus.

To add to the season, the White-and Singers stepped out in perfection with "Broadway '68". The annual staff regrets that there were no pictures to print, but the hard work and determination of "Broadway '68" is something even a picture cannot reveal.

Productions like these prove to the public that the kids of today care, and that's what makes WCHS's music department successful.

to Team

Coach Bledsoe and assistant Coach Callon watch and discuss the actions of the varsity team.

Jody Corbin follows through after throwing one of his fast balls.

Tom Watkins looks on as Reserve wrestler Pitch Schapson battles his opponent on the mat.

In his first year at Whiteland, Coach Walt Lyons led the wrestling team to a 10-3 dual meet record, the best in W.C.H.S. history.

The losses were to Brownsburg, Danville, and Greenwood, but these were avenged as W.C.H.S. downed Mooresville who had previously beaten Danville and Greenwood, and tied Brownsburg.

Some of the better individual records were earned by Mike Flaherty, 14-1; Joe Key, Rick Smith, and Joe Hodge, 12-3; Ollie Pointer, 11-4; and Ernie Fields, 4-0. Joe Key, Mike Flaherty, and Joe Hodge all placed first in the county tourney.

Mr. Lyons says that he is expecting the entire team back next year, since there were no seniors on the squad. He also is expecting to win next year's county tourney.

Wrestlers receiving awards were Jerry Andrews, juniors, highest scholastic average; Joe Key, freshman, most improved wrestler; and Joe Hodge, junior, most valuable wrestler.

Cheerleaders Lead Cheerblock in Keeping

This year, under the leadership of spirited cheerleaders, White and had the noisiest cheerblock in Johnson County.

Besides boosting spirit, the cheerleaders promote good sportsmanship and friendly rivalry between schools. Some of the qualities essential to be a good cheerleader are confidence, energy, faith, boldness, timing, and enthusiasm. We have been fortunate to have found many of these qualities in our cheerleaders of present and past years.

Principal James Sleighter, who received his B.S. from Franklin College and his M.S. from Butler University, prepares to begin his daily duties, some of which are faculty supervision and the improving and developing of the school curriculum.

This year the administration, under the leadership of Mr. James Hannah, Superintendent spent many hours trying to make Whiteland Community High School the best school in Johnson County. In order to achieve this goal they urged the completion of the beautiful cafeteria, bought some new facilities, and selected a good faculty. To the administration we owe a vote of thanks for the great effort they put forth this year.

Mr. Harlen McGrew

Mrs. Duval and the choir are practicing in their new music room.

After receiving a much deserved music wing, the band and chorus departments proceeded to build their reputations as the "best" in Johnson County.

The chorus put on several excellent variety shows, showing their versatility and determination to be best. Several chorus members competed in the annual Solo and Ensemble Contests and brought home several awards.

The band, 74 members strong, began the year with good performances at both football and basketball games. The band received a strong second place rating in its first year at Marching Contest. Also several band members competed in the Solo and Ensemble Contest. The band finished the year with several good concerts.

School Workers Keep Busy as They Cook and Clean Building

Our kitchen workers in the back row are: Mrs. Norma Harris the head cook, Mrs. Betty Phelps, Mrs. Carol Garrison, Mrs. Frances Fowler, Mr. Dorothy Smith, and Mrs. Helen Jones. Those in the front row are: Mrs. Beulah Hyatt, Mr. Marjorie Smith, Mrs. Mary Shepherd, Mrs. Wilma Matson, Mr. Cima Moore, and Mrs. Jan Miller. Mrs. Ruth Brown and Mrs. Barnhart are not pictured.

To all those who have helped make this a great year for White and Community High School we owe a vote of thanks. To the cooks for fixing noontime meals every day, to the janitors for keeping the school cleaned, and to the faculty for patiently trying to educate us.

Mrs. Bernice Fleener and Mrs. Margaret Hardin, our friendly and hard-working matrons, step back to examine their work in cleaning the fire box. Besides cleaning the fire boxes the matrons cleaned the rest rooms, the concession area and keep windows and mirrors sparkling.

Mr. Walter Roth and Mr. Ula French, our outwardly gruff but friendly janitors, return folding chairs to the band room after the awards day program. These men were responsible for emptying the waste baskets, sweeping floors, and general hand work.

Larry Scott and Tom Lake operate one of the pieces of electronic equipment which has been used to produce the program and memoranda on Smoke Signals throughout the year.

Students take advantage of their time in the computer lab. This is the first year for the new computer lab. The students are using the computer to learn about the world around them.

Frances and Clara Ling were found her with the body of the girl friend of her son.

Man is challenged today to excel in almost every endeavor . . . those who do succeed often trace the beginnings of their performance pattern to accomplishment in high school and to those who offered stimulation and inspiration in these formative years. Josten's has long been a partner to these educational leaders in providing a means of motivation and the rewards of recognition, and Josten's products have become tangible symbols honoring perseverance and achievement.

The class ring is representative of the fine traditions of school spirit and unity □ The yearbook provides a lasting memento of the year's accomplishments ] The diploma is a lifelong record of scholastic success _ The graduation announcement heralds this achievement Awards recognize academic and athletic leadership.

A Time for Joy, A Time for Tears

The Entire student body of WCHS is present at the Homecoming

Dr. Merrill McFall gives the commencement address, his topic being 'The Goal Line of Life.'

First the distribution of diplomas ...

... And then the class of 1968 (led by President Richard Ford, president of the nation) ...

When the ceremony came to a close, the graduates and faculty ...

Mr. Seigler gives a minute instruction to tense and apprehensive seniors

But of course the seniors are ...

The Last Look

Though it seemed an endless drive, we finally reach page 160—the last page of the 1968 Warren. Many do not realize the hopes, the fears, and the tedious work that goes into the assembling of such a book. There are those who abruptly find out and cannot take the heavy load that working on a yearbook offers.

I thank Mr. Nash for the guidance he gave the executive photographs and the faith he had in our try staff. I thank Jerry Hartley and J. Wilson photographers for contributing additional pictures. I wish to thank the Daily Journal for contributing pictures on the title page and page 7 of the Warren and Squaw. I thank Mr. Slaughter for his patience and Mrs. Maze who gave so much of her time and patience throughout our committee.

But most of all, I thank the editors of the 1968 Warren. I wish to thank those sparse few who have cried elbows with me and braved the nearly impossible task. For in doing so, each one has left a piece of himself in this yearbook, and now what seemed a cross to bear is a worthwhile experience to look back on. There were busy times and rough times, gadding times and maddening times.

Now as we take our last look at White and High we thank you, the student body, for making it possible for us to have the 1968 Warren, and we hope that in the years to come you may turn the pages of this book and once again see the brilliance of the new look of White and High.

Christine Corlew
